

2016 U.S. Company Member Application and Agreement

This application is for businesses and firms located in the 50 United States that are performing services related to the accounts receivable management industry, including but not limited to third-party consumer debt collection, billing and outsourced first-party debt collection, asset buying, judgment recovery, litigation and collection or creditor defense law firms. Please note:

- If your company is located outside of the 50 United States and meets all other requirements above, please complete the International Company Member Application and Agreement.
- If your company is a supplier and does not contact debtors, ask about membership in ACA's Affiliate (Vendor) Division.
- If your company only collects debt it originated or owned before it went into default, ask about ACA's Creditors Division, which offers individual membership for professionals in credit management and lending.

ACA membership is by location

- Each office wanting ACA member benefits (access to the members-only website including ACA SearchPoint compliance resources; business discounts; training for employees; risk management products and services; mailed publications; and more) must complete an application and pay dues. Multioffice dues discounts may be available for companies holding memberships for 50 percent or more of their locations; please contact us for more information.
- This is a joint application for dual membership in ACA and the affiliated state/regional association (unit) serving your area. Company membership is a combined package of national and unit benefits. Units consist of one or more states and are your local source for information, education, networking, legislative advocacy and more.

Apply at any time

 ACA's membership year is Jan. 1 – Dec. 31. If you apply midyear, you still pay full annual dues. If a prorated credit applies when your membership is made effective, it will be reflected on your first renewal statement.

ACA's governing documents

Applicants and members agree to abide by the ACA
 International and Unit Bylaws, Standard Operating Procedures,
 Code of Conduct, and Procedural Rules for the Ethics Committee as these documents currently exist or as they may be amended. A copy of the Code of Conduct is included at the end of this application. Other ACA documents are available for review at www.acainternational.org/governance.

Questions?

 ACA's Membership Department is happy to answer your questions about ACA member benefits or the application process. Contact us at (952) 926-6547 (menu option 1) or membership@acainternational.org.

Checklist for submitting your application

- Complete and print all pages and sign where indicated. The person who signs must be a controlling principal with the authority to bind the applicant to the terms and conditions of this Application and Agreement. (See Section G on page 7.)
- Include copy or equivalent documentation of Letter of Good Standing issued by your Secretary of State in last 90 days. Note: Law firms and sole proprietors may be exempt from this requirement. (See Section B, item 4 on page 3.)
- Include a copy or indicate status of the Collection Agency documentation issued by appropriate authority in your geographic area, when applicable. (See Section B, item 5 on page 3.)
- ACA accepts Visa, MasterCard and American Express. Enclose a check drawn from a U.S. bank in U.S. funds payable to ACA International for total (national + unit) dues. You may add your optional contribution to the ACA International Education Foundation to this amount.
- Applications paid by credit card may be faxed to (952) 926-1624. For your security, please do not e-mail applications. If you don't receive confirmation of receipt within a day or two, please resend or contact us at (952) 926-6547 (menu option 1).
- Applications paid by check or credit card may be sent with supporting documents to: Membership Department

ACA International 4040 W 70th St. Minneapolis, MN 55435-4104

How information in this application is used by ACA and its affiliated units

ACA reviews your application to determine eligibility for membership and obtain the information we need to provide you with member benefits, as well as marketing of ACA services and products. ACA will confirm membership status to any individual upon request whether or not there is a member directory listing; however, only basic directory contact information is shared.

When ACA has completed its review, your application will be forwarded to and shared with the unit's staff and/or volunteers in official leadership capacities for their review. This review process varies by unit and they have up to 45 days to complete the review.

ACA International Code of Conduct March 18, 2014

Rule I: General Membership Obligations

To maintain a membership in ACA the Member shall:

- A. Abide by the ACA Code of Conduct and the Bylaws and Standard Operating Procedures of the Association and to the extent they may become applicable in any member matter within the discretion of the Ethics Committee any procedure, rule or guideline governing ethics-related proceedings or appeal therefrom, including the Ethics Committee Review Rules.
- B. Supply information relevant to membership qualification when requested regarding the nature of the Member's business and background information about company principals and management personnel.
- C. Not have been convicted of a crime or have been found liable in a civil action for actions or inactions that relate to credit or collection industry practices or procedures, including but not limited to: crimes relating to the misuse of funds, client trust accounts, fraud, forgery, embezzlement, tax evasion, identity theft, or other theft or larceny within the past 10 years.
- D. Cooperate with and abide by the Association's self-regulation efforts.
- E. Designate an individual within the organization having sufficient responsibility to receive consumer complaints directed to the Association, and keep the Association informed at all times of this individual's current contact information.
- F. With respect to any ethics-related matter received through the Association concerning the Member's conduct, promptly respond to all such Association inquiries, cooperate in any related ethics proceedings, make a good faith effort to resolve all such matters, and conform to any ethics-related determinations.
- G. Meet its financial obligations, including, without limitation, financial obligations to the Association.
- H. Require each collector within the organization to adopt and agree to abide by the Collector's Pledge which states:
   I believe every person has worth as an individual.
   I believe every person should be treated with dignity and respect.

I will make it my responsibility to help consumers find ways to pay their just debts.

I will be professional and ethical.

I will commit to honoring this pledge.

Rule II: Ethical Conduct Required of Members

- A. In addition to a continuing duty to adhere to the requirements of any applicable laws, regulations and rules concerning credit and collection industry practices, each Member has a duty to:
  - 1. Treat consumers with consideration and respect.

- Communicate with consumers with honesty and integrity.
- 3. If the Member is a debt collector (as defined in Section 803(6) of the FDCPA) upon receipt of a written request for verification of a debt from a consumer, suspend collection activities on the account, and provide verification of the debt. If such Member does not or is unable to provide verification of the debt in response to a consumer's written request for verification, the Member will:
  - a.) Cease all collection efforts;
  - b.) Direct or request removal of the item from the consumer's credit report or report the item as disputed to the appropriate credit reporting agency, at the member's next available opportunity (if applicable);
  - c.) When closing and returning an account, notify the credit grantor, client, or owner of legal title to the debt that collection activity on the account was terminated due to the inability to provide verification of the debt;
  - d.) If requested by the consumer in writing, notify the consumer that collection efforts have been terminated by the Member.
- 4. In addition to any requirements imposed by law or regulation, in instances of alleged identity theft, fraud or mistaken identity, conduct a reasonable investigation to determine the validity of the debt, the identity of the obligor on the account and the accuracy of the information in the possession of the Member.
- 5. Comply with its contractual obligations to the National Automated Clearing House Association (NACHA).
- 6. Not threaten or initiate collection litigation on time barred debts.
- 7. Seek to obtain access to accurate and complete information about any accounts being purchased by the member and obtain evidence of the chain of title to the debts being purchased.
- 8. Adopt an internal code of conduct.
- B. In addition to a continuing duty to adhere to the requirements of any applicable laws, regulations and rules concerning credit and collection industry practices, each Member will:
  - Not engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation including but not limited to misrepresentation for the purpose of obtaining membership in the Association, a license, a certificate of registration, a certificate, a credential or business related insurance.
  - 2. Not harass, threaten, or coerce a person, including but not limited to, on the basis of race, sex, age,

- creed, religion, color, national origin, disability, sexual preference, gender or marital status in connection with a Member's professional business, Association activities or while acting in a representative capacity of the Association.
- Not engage in dishonorable, unethical or unprofessional conduct of a nature or character likely to deceive, defraud, or harm a consumer, customer, member of the Association or the public.
- 4. Use reasonable efforts to safeguard the confidentiality, integrity and availability of consumer information entrusted to the Member's possession and control.
- 5. Refrain from using the name or logo of the Association for commercial sales or advertising purposes in a manner not specifically authorized by the Association.
- 6. Refrain from knowingly representing that it is affiliated with, or endorsed by an institution or organization when such an affiliation or endorsement does in fact not exist or that the Member has achieved a professional designation when such achievement does in fact not exist.
- 7. Make reasonable efforts to ensure the Member, its principals and its employees comply with the laws, regulations and rules under which the Member performs credit or collection services or debt purchasing and the Association's Code of Conduct.
- 8. Take adequate precautions to distinguish between the Member's personal views and the views of the Association, its subsidiaries and affiliates when communicating with third parties.
- 9. Not communicate, share or distribute any proprietary or confidential information which the Member acquires in the course of performing duties as an Association Member, officer, director, committee member or instructor which could have a detrimental impact upon the business or reputation of this Association, its affiliates, alliances or subsidiaries or any other member of the Association; nor shall any Member use any such information described herein to promote the Member's self-interest or business interest.
- 10. Place any member of the Association or the industry who they suspect, or know, to be violating the ACA Code of Conduct on notice of the alleged violation and seek to identify a solution. Report such member of the Association or the industry to the Association's Ethics Committee for further action if such party's continued violation of the ACA Code of Conduct appears to be willful.

Rule III: Member Responsibilities – Business Relationships

- A. In business relationships with clients Members are encouraged to perform services subject to a written agreement.
  - 1. In the absence of a written agreement Members shall make settlement with clients at least once each calendar month. Such settlement shall not be later than thirty (30) calendar days after the close of the calendar month for which the settlement is made or as otherwise controlled by state law.

- B. When furnishing data on a consumer credit report, a Member has a duty to:
  - First obtain the authorization of the creditor, forwarder or party holding title to the account to perform credit reporting services;
  - 2. Accurately report the date of delinquency as required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act;
  - 3. Take reasonable steps to avoid furnishing data to a consumer credit reporting agency about an account that is presently subject to reporting by another data furnisher; and
  - 4. Delete data furnished to a consumer credit reporting agency upon cancellation and return of an account to the creditor, forwarder or party holding title to the account.
- C. A Member may at no time engage in unlawful activities, schemes, financial arrangements or kickbacks with clients, employees of clients, agencies, entities or collection professionals, including but not limited to acts or omissions giving rise to allegations of bribery, malfeasance or unprofessional conduct as determined by the Association's Ethics Committee.

Rule IV: Member to Member Responsibilities

In relationships with fellow Members, each Member shall:

- A. Not knowingly, negligently or with disregard of the truth, misrepresent its own qualifications, record, collection rates, capacity, experience or abilities or of any other Member or employee of any Member.
- B. Not recruit or solicit prospective employees at any Association sponsored seminar, program, conference, convention, meeting or activity, or use their status or position within the Association to accomplish the same.
- C. Not knowingly or with reckless disregard of the truth, misrepresent the qualifications, record, collection rates, capacity, experience or abilities of any Member.

Rule V: Member Responsibilities as Forwardees and Forwarders

In the absence of a written agreement between the Forwarder and Forwardee, Member and non-member Forwarders and Forwardees who engage in a forwarding arrangement, agree:

- A. Rates of commission and fees are matters of contract between Forwarder and Forwardee and the Association does not presume to establish or suggest any fixed rate or policy that is intended to be binding upon its Members. The Forwarder shall state in the originating forwarding document the net commission rates or fees which shall be paid to the Forwardee upon collection of the items so forwarded. If the rates or fees stated are not satisfactory to the Forwardee, he or she shall return the item(s) of collection within ten (10) business days to the Forwarder along with all original documentation thereof.
- B. Any change in rates concerning any items forwarded for collection shall be agreed to and acknowledged in writing by both the Forwarder and Forwardee.
- Unless otherwise agreed to by both parties, in writing and signed by both parties, the method for computing

- compensation for internationally forwarded accounts will be based upon a contingent fee method. This means that compensation will be based solely upon a percentage of the amount collected and remitted in the Forwarder's currency. If no funds are collected, no charges or expenses will be paid to the Forwardee. This applies to all collection efforts including legal proceedings (court costs, attorney fees, etc.) unless the parties otherwise agree in writing, in advance of any work being done and /or in advance of any legal action being started. Members who forward accounts for collection should determine whether the country or political unit wherein the Forwardee conducts business, imposes any prohibition or restrictions on the remittance of funds or assets to Forwarders, before forwarding accounts for collection to any such Forwardee.
- D. In the instance when an account is forwarded for collection of an amount which includes charges in addition to the principal balance due, the forwarding documents shall include an itemization of each such additional charge. Moreover, unless otherwise prohibited by law, any decision to collect such charges from the consumer shall be the sole responsibility of the Forwarder and said Forwarder shall indemnify and hold Forwardee harmless for any damages including compensatory, actual and punitive which Forwardee incurs as a result of Forwarder's decision and demand to collect such additional charges. As used in the Association Code of Conduct, charges subject to this provision shall include, but are not limited to, interest, penalties, court costs, sheriffs' fees, bank charges, garnishment fees, attorney fees and costs of service of process.
- E. The Forwarder shall disclose any disputes of which the Forwarder has knowledge and advise whether or not an itemized statement can be produced upon request of the Forwardee.
- F. The Forwardee shall, within ten (10) calendar days of receipt of the originating forwarding letter or document acknowledge all items forwarded for collection by accepting or rejecting them in writing. If the Forwardee rejects an account or item forwarded for collection, he or she may, but is not required to, inform the Forwarder of the reason for so doing.
- G. Forwardee shall respond promptly to requests for reports from Forwarders.
  - Reports shall not be requested or expected sooner than one hundred fifty (150) calendar days after the forwarded account has been either acknowledged, payment received thereon or following the last report, unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the parties.
  - 2. After two (2) requests for reports have been made by a Forwarder, without response from the Forwardee, the Forwarder may give fifteen (15) business days' notice of cancellation of the forwarded account by certified mail, and if no report is given within this time (15 business days), the forwarded account shall be considered canceled and returned to the Forwarder.
- H. Except as provided in paragraph "I" below, allow the Forwarder or the client of the Forwarder the right to withdraw any account or item forwarded for collection, six months after they have been listed for collection, within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt of such a request in - writing, if there has been neither payment, promise of payment or legal action filed since the account or item was forwarded which reasonably entitles the Forwardee to retain the item or account for further collection effort.

- I. Allow the Forwarder or the client of the Forwarder the right to withdraw any account or item forwarded for collection immediately upon evidence that the Forwardee has breached the contract in effect between the Forwarder and Forwardee.
- J. The Forwarder shall promptly report to Forwardee any direct payments made either to Forwarder, or to the creditor. The Forwarder shall remit such amounts to the Forwardee within thirty (30) calendar days after being rendered a statement by the Forwardee or otherwise settle with Forwardee in a manner acceptable to both Forwarder and Forwardee.
- K. Where a forwarded account is paid directly to the creditor or to the Forwarder after the account or item for collection has arrived at the office of the Forwardee and the Forwardee has acknowledged receipt of same and commenced work on the account, the Forwardee shall be entitled to the usual commission.
- L. Unless otherwise agreed by both parties in writing, the Forwardee shall make settlement with the Forwarder within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt of negotiable, collected funds on forwarded account. Forwardee shall be entitled to retain its court costs and attorney fees before application of principal amount. The costs of transmitting funds are to be paid by the agency forwarding the funds unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the parties.
- M. Within thirty (30) calendar days of discovering that a check used as the manner of payment by a consumer was dishonored or recalled by bankruptcy petition, the Forwardee shall provide Forwarder with actual notice of this information. If after having complied with the preceding notice provision, the proceeds of a collection item are received by a Forwarder, and the check that was the manner of payment by the consumer is dishonored by the drawee bank or recalled by bankruptcy petition, the Forwarder shall be obligated to restore to the Forwardee all the remitted funds including the shares of both the creditor and the Forwarder, irrespective of whether the Forwarder has actually remitted the proceeds to the creditor, or not.
- N. Upon receipt of an account forwarded for collection, the Forwardee shall, within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt determine whether the consumer resides in a geographic area serviced by Forwardee. If the Forwardee learns that the consumer is located in a geographic area other than that serviced by the Forwardee, the Forwardee shall return the forwarded account to the Forwarder. However, if the Forwardee has made settlement arrangements with the consumer, the Forwardee will be permitted to retain the account so long as payments are being timely received in accordance with the terms of the settlement arrangement.
- O. The Forwardee may not reforward a claim without the written consent of the original Forwarder.
- P. In cases where the item forwarded is a judgment which includes costs, the Forwardee shall be entitled to receive the regular commission due on the collection of the entire judgment, unless different arrangements have been made in advance between the parties.
- Q. A Forwardee, having relinquished an account, and after

- giving notice to that effect to the Forwarder, may accept payment from the consumer with the understanding that said Forwardee is not entitled to compensation on any such payment unless expressly authorized by the original Forwarder.
- R. No Forwardee shall charge and retain from one account the commissions claimed on another, where there is no authority to do so. This means that no Forwardee may offset one account against another, even if from the same Forwarder.
- S. The Forwardee shall limit all written and oral communication to the Forwarder's client to only those matters which the Forwardee agency has been expressly authorized by Forwarder to communicate.
- T. When returning, relinquishing or terminating an account or item for collection, the Forwardee shall return all of the original documents evidencing the obligations which were provided to the Forwardee by the Forwarder.
- U. Before reforwarding an account, Forwarder shall request return of the account and secure its release from the original Forwardee in writing. Failure to comply with this provision may result in liability for multiple commissions by the Forwarder to the Forwardees.
- V. No Forwardee shall compromise or settle any account forwarded for collection without first obtaining the written consent of the Forwarder. In addition to other sanctions and penalties, a Forwardee who violates this provision shall be liable to the Forwarder for the full amount of the account, less commission, unless the Forwarder ratifies the settlement or compromise.
- W. It shall be assumed that all accounts forwarded by any Member of this Association and, all related activity to any other Member of this Association, is pursuant to this Code of Conduct.
- X. Any healthcare account forwarded for collection must be serviced according to a business associate agreement between the Forwarder and Forwardee.

Rule VI: Enforcement Actions

Any Member may be admonished, suspended or expelled for cause due to conduct, acts or omissions contrary to the Code. Such conduct, acts or omissions can result in review and investigation by the Association's Ethics Committee in accordance with the Ethics Committee Review Rules. Final actions of the Ethics Committee regarding the suspension or expulsion of a Member may become a matter of public record.

Rule VII: Amendments

The foregoing may be amended or altered in whole or in part by a majority vote of the Ethics Committee. Any such amendments are then subject to final approval by the Board of Directors. Notification of approved changes shall be sent promptly to the Association Membership using the most appropriate communications medium(s).

Rule VIII: Merger

The Association's prior "Code of Ethics" (last amended November 23, 2010) and "Code of Operations" (last amended November 23, 2010) are hereby now merged into a single consolidated code of conduct governing members, and are now re-titled "Code of Conduct".

Rule IX: Effective Date

This Code of Conduct shall be effective and govern member conduct as of this 18th day of March, 2014.
